More information about NYC's public transit can be found at <http://mta.info/nyct>. You can find further info about each primary arrival point to NYC at these links: LaGuardia, JFK, Newark, Grand Central, Port Authority, Penn Station.

Note: There are also shared van shuttles from LaGuardia, JFK, or Newark to/from Manhattan including Super Shuttle and Prime Time Shuttle. However, these services usually take longer than taking the subway or taxi, and most do not have service to locations in Queens. We also strongly caution you to avoid using any driver approaching you at the airport to offer a ride.

The Global Center is located at 116 East 55th St. between Lexington and Park Avenues.

Directions from Verve Hotel and Holiday Inn – Manhattan View to SUNY Global Center:

The SUNY Global Center (marked A below) can be easily reached by subway in about 15-20 minutes from the Verve Hotel (marked B) or Holiday Inn – Manhattan View (marked I). The quickest route is to take a Manhattan-bound E or M subway line from the “Queens Plaza” station (marked C) 2 stops to the “Lexington Avenue–53rd Street” station (marked E). If you ride in the front of the train, when you exit the train you will be near a set of escalators which will take you to the exit at the corner of Lexington Avenue and 53rd Street. The Global Center is a short 2-block walk north.

Alternatively you can take a Manhattan-bound N or Q-train from the “39th Avenue” station (marked D on map) to the “Lexington Avenue-59th Street” station (marked F on map). If you ride towards the front of the train, you will be closer and better able to follow the exits to Lexington Avenue. The Global Center is a short 4-block walk south.

You can find more detailed directions through Google Maps. A taxi or car service between the two locations should take 10-20 minutes and cost about $12-15 plus tip and can be arranged by the staff at the hotel.

Note: The SUNY Global Center is a short walk from the Club Quarters Hotel and Courtyard - Midtown East.

Directions to the SUNY Global Center from primary arrival points in NYC:

LaGuardia Airport: The Global Center can be reached by a combination of a local bus and subway. From the front of each terminal catch an M60 bus to the “Astoria Blvd.” subway station. From there transfer to a Manhattan-bound Q or N subway train. Get off at the “Lexington Avenue-59th Street” station (marked F on map). If you ride towards the front of the train, you will be closer and better able to follow the exits to Lexington Avenue. The Global Center is a short 4-block walk south. The total trip should take about 45 minutes and costs $2.50 total. Ask the bus driver for a transfer for the subway. Alternatively a taxi would take about 20-30 minutes and cost $30-35 plus tip and tolls.

JFK Airport: You can easily reach the Global Center directly from JFK by subway. The ride takes about 45-60 minutes and is not much slower than a taxi at many times. Take the JFK Airtrain from any terminal to “Jamaica Station.” Once there follow the signs to transfer to a Manhattan-bound E subway train and take it to the “Lexington Avenue-53rd Street” station (marked E on map). If you ride in the front of the train, when you exit the train you will be near a set of escalators which will take you to the exit at the corner of Lexington Avenue and 53rd Street. The Global Center is a short 2-block walk north. The cost would be $7.50 for the combined trip on the Airtrain and subway. A taxi alternatively takes 30-60 minutes and is a flat rate of $52 plus tip and tolls.
