Further Transit Info

More info about NYC's public transit can be found at http://mta.info/nyc. You can find info about each primary arrival point to NYC at these links: LaGuardia, JFK, Newark, Grand Central, Port Authority, Penn Station.

Note: There are shared van shuttles from LaGuardia, JFK, or Newark to/from Manhattan including Super Shuttle and Prime Time Shuttle. However, these often take longer than the subway or taxi, and most do not have easy service to Queens. We strongly caution you to avoid using any driver approaching you directly at the airport to offer a ride.

The Global Center is located at 116 East 55th St. between Lexington and Park Avenues.

Directions from Verve Hotel, Fairfield Inn and Holiday Inn to the SUNY Global Center:

The SUNY Global Center (marked A below) can be easily reached by subway in about 15-20 minutes from the Verve Hotel (marked H), Holiday Inn (marked I) or Fairfield Inn (marked J). The quickest route is to take a Manhattan-bound E or M subway line from the “Queens Plaza” station (marked C) 2 stops to the “Lexington Avenue–53rd Street” station (marked E). If you ride in the front of the train, when you exit the train you will be near a set of escalators which will take you to the exit at the corner of Lexington Avenue and 53rd Street. The Global Center is a short 2-block walk north.

Alternatively you can take a Manhattan-bound N or Q-train from the “39th Avenue” station (marked D on map) to the “Lexington Avenue-59th Street” station (marked F on map). If you ride towards the front of the train, you will be closer and better able to follow the exits to Lexington Avenue. The Global Center is a short 4-block walk south.

You can find more detailed directions through Google Maps. A taxi or car service between the two locations should take 10-20 minutes and cost about $12-15 plus tip and can be arranged by the staff at the hotel.

Note: The SUNY Global Center is a short walk from the Courtyard - Midtown East.

Directions to the SUNY Global Center from primary arrival points in NYC:

LaGuardia Airport: The Global Center can be reached by a combination of local bus and subway. From the front of each terminal catch an M60 bus to the “Astoria Blvd.” subway station. From there transfer to a Manhattan-bound Q or N subway train. Get off at the “Lexington Avenue-59th Street” station (marked F on map). If you ride towards the front of the train, you will be closer and better able to follow the exits to Lexington Avenue. The Global Center is a short 4-block walk south. The total trip takes about 45 minutes and costs $2.50. Exact change is needed and no bills are taken. There are Metrocard machines inside the terminals near baggage claim. Ask the bus driver for a subway transfer. Alternatively a taxi takes about 20-30 minutes and costs $30-35 plus tip. Ask them to use the 59th Street Bridge.

JFK Airport: You can easily reach the Global Center directly from JFK by subway. The ride takes about 45-60 minutes and is not much slower than a taxi at many times. Take the JFK Airtrain from any terminal to “Jamaica Station.” Once there follow the signs to transfer to a Manhattan-bound E subway train and take it to the “Lexington Avenue-53rd Street” station (marked E on map). If you ride in the front of the train, when you exit the train you will be near a set of escalators which will take you to the exit at the corner of Lexington Avenue and 53rd Street. The Global Center is a short 2-block walk north. The cost would be $7.50 for the combined trip on the Airtrain and subway. A taxi alternatively takes 30-60 minutes and is a flat rate of $52 plus tip and tolls.

Grand Central Terminal (Metro-North Railroad): Global Center is a short taxi ride or .75-mile walk up Park Avenue.

Pennsylvania Station (Amtrak, New Jersey Transit, Long Island RR): From the subway station attached to Penn Station, take a Queens-bound E subway train to the “Lexington Avenue-53rd Street” station (marked E on map). If you ride in the rear of the train, when you exit the train you will be near a set of escalators which will take you to the exit at the corner of Lexington Avenue and 53rd Street. The Global Center is a short 2-block walk north. The trip should take about 15 minutes and costs $2.50. Alternatively it is a short taxi ride ($10-12) or a 2.0 mile walk.

Port Authority Bus Station: From the subway station attached to the bus station, take a Queens-bound E subway train to the “Lexington Avenue-53rd Street” station (marked E on map). If you ride in the rear of the train, when you exit the train you will be near a set of escalators which will take you to the exit at the corner of Lexington Avenue and 53rd Street. The Global Center is a short 2-block walk north. The trip should take about 15 minutes and costs $2.50. Alternatively it is a short taxi ride ($10-12) or a 1.5 mile walk.
